

(Senior) IT Business Consultant (m/f/diverse) – Purchasing NPM - REF6483Y

Feladatok

As part of the global AUMOVIO IT – Business Applications organization, you will support and further develop IT solutions for Non Production Material (NPM) Purchasing. You will act as a consultant, solution designer, and implementation expert for globally integrated Purchasing and Procurement processes across multiple SAP and non-SAP environments.

This position can be filled in Regensburg (preferred) or Frankfurt.

Key Responsibilities:

- Analyze and clarify complex business requirements from global NPM Purchasing stakeholders, covering both change requests and project-related demands
- Advise business departments, process owners, and key users on solution designs for global, end to end purchasing processes
- Coordinate or implement enhancements for standard and custom-developed applications across various technologies (Cloud, On Prem, JavaScript, FIORI, etc.)
- Maintain and continuously improve existing applications throughout their lifecycle in alignment with Incident and Change Management processes
- Execute software maintenance activities, including applying release notes, support packages, and upgrades
- Actively participate in global IT projects, managing deliverables and ensuring alignment across multiple regions
- Coordinate internal and external developers/consultants for global IT initiatives
- Plan, execute, and validate testing activities to ensure high-quality solution delivery
- Collaborate closely with global colleagues across Purchasing, Logistics, Finance, Controlling and Quality, ensuring alignment with internal customers worldwide
- Provide regular and ad-hoc status reports to project steering committees at executive level
- Work within a complex system landscape consisting of 10+ productive SAP systems and various cloud and non-SAP solutions supporting global purchasing processes

Profilja

- Academic degree in technical or economic studies, or a comparable professional qualification
